RADY JCC RECEIVES $200,000 FOR DAYCARE EXPANSION

WINNIPEG, MB / APRIL 18, 2007 – The Government of Manitoba announced today that The Rose & Max Rady Jewish Community Centre (Rady JCC) will receive $200,000 from the Early Learning and Child Care Capital Fund, expanding the Rady JCC Child Care Centre to over 70 spaces.

These 70 fulltime spaces, for children aged three months to 12 years, will include:

- 12 new fulltime infant spaces
- 48 fulltime preschool spaces (increased from 24)
- expanded after-school care program

Rady JCC Child Care Centre provides a high-quality early education program, integrating Jewish culture and values. The program includes art, music, and access to Rady JCC programs such as swimming, sports programs, and creative movement.

“We’re thrilled with this news,” says Rady JCC Executive Director Gayle Waxman. “The Rady JCC Child Care Centre has approximately 200 names on its wait list, and this funding will help meet the demand for high-quality care that integrates Jewish values. Children and families are an integral part of the Rady, and this announcement helps us continue growing in that direction.”

The Rady JCC Child Care Centre expansion is part of a major building renovation. The 70,000 sq. ft. Rady JCC facilities will be completely restructured, with extensive improvements to the fitness areas and locker rooms. A small gym will be built for the exclusive use of the Rady JCC Child Care Centre during the day, and used for other Rady JCC programming on evenings and weekends. These changes will improve both the functionality and the look of this already world-class facility.
